

Job Opportunity: PSV Master Technician

Salary: £38,000 per year, plus overtime

We're looking for a fully-qualified PSV Master Technician at our depot in Birmingham to maintain and repair our fleet of buses to the highest standards as set by the company and DVSA.

The successful candidate will be a motivated team player who can work effectively unsupervised and use their own initiative. You must be a fully qualified mechanic with extensive experience of both mechanical and electrical systems along with experience working on passenger-carrying vehicles.

Your main duties will include:

- carrying out PSV inspections and repair to both company and DVSA standards.
- preparing and presenting MOTs
- diagnosing vehicle faults and specifying the correct method of repair
- carrying out vehicle servicing in accordance with company policy
- ensuring correct paperwork is completed and accurate records maintained and parts are booked out from stores using the correct procedure
- adhering to good housekeeping practices including general tidiness in the workshop and the return of all tools and equipment to their designated place
- attending on-road vehicle breakdowns and recoveries
- carrying out vehicle road testing where necessary to determine specific vehicle defects or following remedial repair
- ensuring work load is prioritized and deadlines met
- complying with Health and Safety policy and guidance documents.
- adopting safe methods of working

Experience:

- minimum C&G Level 3 or equivalent NVQ qualification in PSV or HGV mechanical repair
- engineering experience on coach/bus is essential
- you should ideally be IRTEC trained (we will provide this training if not)
- you must have a full UK driving licence and a valid PSV licence

This position is 45 hours per week including breaks on a shift rotation basis. Overtime will be available when required. In return we can offer the right candidate job security, competitive pay rates and further training opportunities.

Progression to Engineering Supervisor is available for the right candidate.

If you wish to build your career as a PSV Master Technician in a friendly and fast-paced company then get in touch today by calling Don Wren, our Engineering Manager, on 0121 515 0463.